

Google search bar

HOME SEARCH MESSAGES CHAT NEWS GAY EVENTS VIDEO BLOGS

- Front Page
News
Politics
Entertainment
Kids & Family
Lifestyle
Health
Q & Q
Help
Log On

JOIN >>

Return to PropQ

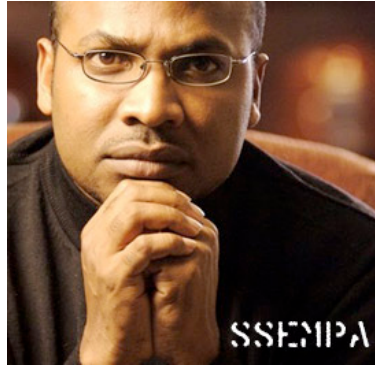

Ugandan Pastor and Rick Warren Pal Martin Ssempla Planning Million Man 'Kill the Gays' March

From Towleroad News
Today 7:03 AM - 11 views

Well this is something to look forward to... not.

Heinous Ugandan pastor Martin Ssempla (who is, incidentally, Pastor Rick Warren's man in Uganda) is planning a "million man march" in support of the "kill the gays" bill.

Reuters: "The east African nation has faced intense pressure from Western governments and human rights groups over anti-homosexuality legislation tabled in parliament as a private members' bill last year. Museveni seemed to distance himself and the government from the proposed law on Tuesday, saying it was a foreign policy issue and calling for more talks. The ex-rebel leader said he had been under pressure from Western leaders. 'We want to show how many people support the bill,' Pastor Martin Ssempla told journalists in the Ugandan capital. 'We want to give a postcard that (Museveni) can send to his friend (U.S. President) Barack Obama,' Ssempla said in front of posters saying 'Africans Unite Against Sodomy' and 'Barack Obama Back Off'.

From Max Blumenthal's article on Rick Warren and Uganda published a year ago:

"Warren's man in Uganda is a charismatic pastor named Martin Ssempla. The head of the Makerere Community Church, a rapidly growing congregation, Ssempla enjoys close ties to his country's First Lady, Janet Museveni, and is a favorite of the Bush White House. In the capitol of Kampala, Ssempla is known for his boisterous crusading. Ssempla's stunts have included burning condoms in the name of Jesus and arranging the publication of names of homosexuals in cooperative local newspapers while lobbying for criminal penalties to imprison them."

"With safe sex advocates on the run, Warren and Ssempla trained their sights on another social evil. In August 2007, Ssempla led hundreds of his followers through the streets of Kampala to demand that the government mete out harsh punishments against gays. 'Arrest all homos,' read placards. And: 'A man cannot marry a man.' Ssempla continued his crusade online, publishing the names of Ugandan gay rights activists on a website he created, along with photos and home addresses. 'Homosexual promoters,' he called them, suggesting they intended to seduce Uganda's children into their lifestyle. Soon afterwards, two of President Yoweri Museveni's top officials demanded the arrest of the gay activists named by Ssempla. Terrified, the activists immediately into hiding."

Read the Original Story on Towleroad News.

Share on: Facebook Twitter Delicious Digg Reddit StumbleUpon

Other Stories in the News:

Madonna Has a Secret Son and He's Here to Bleed About It
341 views

Supreme Court Rules 5-4 to Stay Prop 8 Trial Broadcast Ban
489 views

Join up or Log on!

You must be a member to comment on stories.

If you are already a member, log on now. If you are not a member, Join up!

Comments

Comment Order: Newest First

No comments yet.

Return to PropQ

PRWeb advertisement: Distribute your news to consumers, journalists & bloggers with PRWeb. Sign Up Now!

Comments on Other Stories

Fred Commented on Ugly Betty Actor Michael Urie: Queer But Not Gay at 1:54 PM

@Tarik, "I agree Courtney, Sexuality is totally based on genetics...I have research videos that prov..."

35 comments

Francisco Commented on Cristiano Ronaldo Gets Drenched in More New Armani Photos at 1:52 PM

"I love his body!"

28 comments

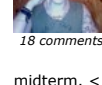

Marvin Commented on Notre Dame Student Paper Prints Cartoon Advocating Gay Bashing at 1:44 PM

"Perhaps the apology is a bit canned. However, I am not sure what more we would expect them to say. T..."

3 comments

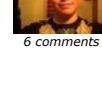

Josh Commented on Madonna Has a Secret Son and He's Here to Bleed About It at 1:35 PM

"that was very hard to watch. looks like a gay gothtard's film school

18 comments

Jose Commented on White Collar Actor Matt Bomer on Gay Rumors: 'I Don't Care' at 1:31 PM

"I hope he's gay"

6 comments